PRIME CUTS

The highest quality and most tender cuts that come from the youngest beef with the most abundant marbling. They are also called primal cuts because they are the foundation for all other beef cuts.

BEEF GRADING

Beef grading sets the standards for the various quality levels of beef.

The grade is primarily determined by the degree of marbling – the small flecks of fat within the beef muscle. Marbling provides flavor, tenderness and juiciness to beef and improves overall palatability. Other grading factors include animal age, and color and texture of the muscle.
